

ECFA後海峽兩岸經貿交流之芻議

邱冠斌

行政管理學系

人文社會學院

chiu5168@chu.edu.tw

摘要

The Economic Cooperation Framework Agreement (ECFA) was signed by Taiwan' s Strait Exchange Foundation and Mainland' s Cross-Strait Relationship Association in Chongqing on June 29, 2010. According to Taiwan' s Chinese Economics Research Institute, Taiwan' s GDP, production value, and numbers of employment will all go up significantly due to the enactment of ECFA. In other words, the enactment of ECFA will bring obvious benefits to Taiwan' s economy.

Based on the speeches of Mainland' s Premier Wen Jiabao, CPPCC National Committee Chairman Jia Qinglin, and Minister of the Taiwan Affairs Office of the State Council Wang Yi, Mainland will promote the cross-strait economic cooperation under the 12-5 Planning to attain the goals of ECFA. The west-coast of strait economic zone is chosen for the pilot plan. Regarding the adjusting-structure aspect of the 12-5 Planning, the seven strategic industries of Mainland are very similar to the six new key industries of Taiwan. Therefore, businessmen from Taiwan will be most suitable to execute cross-strait industrial cooperation.

Regarding the promoting-consumption aspect of the 12-5 Planning, the prosperity of service industry in Mainland will be highly foreseeable in the future. Due to early development, service industry in Taiwan has accumulated lots of experience and high-quality human resources. With no language barrier Taiwan can play key roles on the development of service industry in Mainland.

Most scholars agree that businessmen from Taiwan are the key to cross-strait trade exchange in the future. The experience of cross-strait trade exchange in the last three decades tells us that win-win situation is the only best way for people on both sides to share the abundant economic benefits. This paper suggests that the government of both sides facilitate businessmen from Taiwan to enter the domestic market of Mainland in more systematic ways in the post-ECFA era. In addition, qualified enterprises in Mainland should be assisted by both governments to invest in Taiwan. Closer cooperation of two sides will bring common benefits and create common prosperity.

關鍵字：ECFA, cross-strait, economic cooperation, trade exchange